

WORCESTER <sup>22</sup><sub>26</sub> FILM FESTIVAL 2026

PROGRAMME

UNIVERSITY of WORCESTER

Institute of Arts and Humanities

The Institute of Arts and Humanities at The University of Worcester is a place of transformative education and interdisciplinary innovation.

With programmes spanning Filmmaking, Media & Film Studies, Screenwriting, Theatre, Acting and Performance, Fine Art, Graphic Design, History and Law, our ethos is to situate arts practices at the intersection of disciplinary boundaries.

We collaborate with national and international artists, and partner organisations across the creative sector, to ensure that our award-winning students are industry-focussed and ready to shape the future of the Creative Industries.

WELCOME MESSAGE

Stories made across all art forms are important. They are how we interpret the world, how we reflect it back to one another. Stories connect us and those tethers, in a time of disconnection, show us who we are and who we can be.

Maybe that's why we're seeing a new age of indie cinema growing, why 87% of young people turned out to the cinema this year. Why we're seeing a move back to wanting to own physical media. Why bigger studios are pivoting to make more stories on tighter budgets.

We are entering a renaissance of filmmaking. Over the last decade filmmaking has become more accessible than ever, whether that be access to equipment or software or the growing pathways and avenues for exhibiting projects. People are coming together to create, experiment, find ways to push the medium. Push stories.

To get what you see, on any screen you watch, requires immense collaboration from all types of craft. Artists, musicians, carpenters, electricians. Multiple disciplines all working in tandem. Film brings people together, not just in the making, but in the watching as well. We enjoy best when we enjoy together.

That is our aim with this programme to bring film lovers and filmmakers together to enjoy the best in independent cinema from all over the world.

Over the dates of 22nd-26th September you can experience over 250 films from 25 countries, with some being the first time they've ever been screened. There are various talks across the week to expand knowledge and make sure that knowledge isn't gate kept. Showcases championing competition winners and graduates. Q&As with some of our filmmakers, giving you a peek behind the curtain of their films. Socialising every night across the city where you can chat in independent venues about your favourite films of the day. If you're from Worcester, experience your home through a different lens and if you're visiting, join us to see the best this beautiful city has to offer.

If you've never experienced a film festival before, we implore you to try it out. You don't need to be die hard film watcher with a robust Letterboxd to enjoy it. Even if the extent of your watching is an old comfort show on Netflix at home, we promise you'll find something to enjoy.

Let's sit shoulder to shoulder in rows watching life unfold on the big screen and start conversations with people we've never met. And let's do all of this together.

HOW TO ACCESS THE UK'S FILM TAX CREDITS

The BFI Certification Unit is the first point of contact for applicants wanting to qualify their film (including shorts) or TV project as British to access the UK's creative sector tax incentives (AVEC). Head of BFI Certification Chris Halliday talks on how to qualify your film or other projects under the cultural test or as an official co-production to access the expenditure credits, including the new Enhanced AVEC for low-budget film (also known as the Independent Film Tax Credit, IFTC), which can be worth up to nearly 40% of your core expenditure. If you're making a film in the UK then you're likely eligible. Further details can be found on the BFI website. 1-2-1 slots are also available to book via the online schedule on our website.

THE AUDIENCE AWARD

This is your chance to have your say on the films of the festival. Once you come out of a showing you will receive an email to rate the films in the block you've just watched. By the time the Award Ceremony starts, festival staff will have collated all the votes and the film with the highest score by the audience will be given The Audience Award. We value what our audiences think and believe they should get a say alongside our industry jury about which projects should be recognised. Please make sure your tickets are scanned by a member of the festival team before attending a screening, otherwise you will not be able to vote! We can't wait to hear what you think.

Worcester Film Festival is proudly part of the Letterboxd HQ programme. Search for us on the app or online and check out the available films in our 2026 list. Review them, save them, share them!
